6 (a) REPORT.—Not later than June 1, 2015, and 7 June 1 of each year thereafter through 2020, the Sec-
8 retary of Defense shall submit to the specified congres-
9 sional committees a report, in both classified and unclassi-
10 fied form, on the current and future military power of the 11 Russian Federation (in this section referred to as “Rus-

1 sia”). The report shall address the current and probable
2 future course of military-technological development of the 3 Russian military, the tenets and probable development of 4 the security strategy and military strategy of the Govern-
5 ment of Russia, and military organizations and oper-
6 ational concepts, for the 20-year period following submis-
7 sion of such report.

8 (b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The report re-
9 quired under subsection (a) shall include the following:

10 (1) An assessment of the security situation in 11 regions neighboring Russia.

12 (2) The goals and factors shaping the security
13 strategy and military strategy of the Government of 14 Russia.

15 (3) Trends in Russian security and military be-16 havior that would be designed to achieve, or that are 17 consistent with, the goals described in paragraph 18 (2).

19 (4) An assessment of the global and regional se-
20 curity objectives of the Government of Russia, in-
21 cluding objectives that would affect the North Atlan-22 tic Treaty Organization, the Middle East, or the 23 People’s Republic of China.

24 (5) A detailed assessment of the sizes, loca-
25 tions, and capabilities of the nuclear, special oper-

1 ations, land, sea, and air forces of the Government
2 of Russia.

3 (6) Developments in Russian military doctrine
4 and training.

5 (7) An assessment of the proliferation activities
6 of the Government of Russia and Russian entities,
7 as a supplier of materials, technologies, or expertise
8 relating to nuclear weapons or other weapons of 9 mass destruction or missile systems.

10 (8) Developments in the asymmetric capabilities
11 of the Government of Russia, including its strategy
12 and efforts to develop and deploy cyberwarfare and 13 electronic warfare capabilities, details on the number
14 of malicious cyber incidents originating from Russia
15 against Department of Defense infrastructure, and 16 associated activities originating or suspected of origi-
17 nating from Russia.

18 (9) The strategy and capabilities of space and 19 counterspace programs in Russia, including trends,
20 global and regional activities, the involvement of 21 military and civilian organizations, including state-
22 owned enterprises, academic institutions, and com-
23 mercial entities, and efforts to develop, acquire, or 24 gain access to advanced technologies that would en-
25 hance Russian military capabilities.

1           (10) Developments in Russia’s nuclear pro-
2           gram, including the size and state of Russia’s stock-
3           pile, its nuclear strategy and associated doctrines, its 4           civil and military production capacities, and projec-
5           tions of its future arsenals.

6           (11) A description of the anti-access and area
7           denial capabilities of the Government of Russia.

8           (12) A description of Russia’s command, con-
9           trol, communications, computers, intelligence, sur-
10          veillance, and reconnaissance modernization program
11          and its applications for Russia’s precision guided 12          weapons.

13          (13) In consultation with the Secretary of En-
14          ergy and the Secretary of State, developments re-
15          garding United States-Russian engagement and co-
16          operation on security matters.
